Monetary. The money market continues quiet, and without noticeable change. The supply is very limited: and but for the light demand the pressure would be severely felt. Street rates are still high, and the Banks are doing very little. The New York and Baltimore money markets are quoted inactive, on account of the great abundance of capital.

Stocks are very dull, sales unimportant, and have declined since our last report, and are now quoted at 928. Eastern Exchange is dull, at § says:—"Navigation will be resumed on the dance, Silver Medals to James A. Clarridge, quotations nominal. Virginia 6's in New York on New York.

Flour has been dull, with a light city demand. We quote Union atreet nominally at $4.25. The receipts of Wheat have been very small-market unusually quiet, and quotations altogether nominal. The demand for Corn is active, and the offerings have been fair, with an advance in prices, the market closing firm, at 73c. for white and mixed-no yellow offering, which would bring 75c. Rye and Oats have been very dull. Butter and Lard are in fair supply, and prices tending down. Eggs are in smaller supply, and prices tending up. Provisions are improving, and business during the week, among the Grocery merchants, has been active. Guano and Plaster are unchanged.

Maryland Coal Trade.

The Cumberland Telegraph says :- The coal trade this year will be very small. Already it shows a decrease as compared even with the small shipments of the corresponding period of last year, of sixty thousand tons. This conclusion is the more to be believed from the fact that, contrary to public expectation, the boatmen on the canal show no disposition to recede from their demands for an increase of freight on coal from this port to Alexandria; nor do the companies manifest any intention to accede to that demand. Persistance in this respect by the two interests will hardly terminate in a compro-That is evident; and yet neither of them seem disposed to yield. This is to be deplored, not only by consumers, but by all parties di rectly or indirectly interested in the mining business. Taking this view of the ground, we are convinced that the trade this year cannot much exceed six hundred thousand tons, and the main part of this must seek a market by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, that Company having reduced the freight on coal fifty cents on the ton since last year between this place and Balti-

There is, at present, but little coal going to market, and but few orders coming in. As a consequence all branches of business here are more or less seriously affected. Business i very dull. Indeed, we may say, it is in a great measure prostrated. We are wholly dependent on the mining operations within the county, and whatever affects them injuriously produces a corresponding effect upon other branches

New York Cattle Market, July 1. The beef cattle market was again depressed yesterday. The heavy decline of last week, one and a half cents, was succeeded yesterday by a reduction of over half a cent & lb. A number of drovers say there has not been such a depression in the cattle trade within the last seven or ten years. The price for the finest seall sales would not exceed 75077c. Some of the inferior grades brought only 61@Fic. At the decline there was no general disposition to buy, and a feeling of depression universally prevailed. The quality was inferior to last week's stock, there being more of the common grades. Sheep and Lambs were fully 75 cts. p head lower, and a supply unusually large.

Baltimore Cattle Market, July 1. CATTLE.-The supply of Beef Cattle at maring offered at the scales. Of this number 350 were sent to Philadelphia, 250 were left over unsold, and the remaining 500 head were taken by Baltimore butchers at prices ranging from $3 to $4.50 on the hoof, equal to $6038 net, and averaging $4 gross. The supply to-day considerably exceeded the demand, and such lots as were sold were forced off. Hogs.-For Hogs prices still range at from

$5.50 to $6.50 > 100 lbs. net. The market for them is, however, dull. SHEEP -Sheep are still quoted at $2@$3 p
